To Whom it May Concern,

It is with great admiration of the longstanding tradition of the _____ University , along with my profound appreciation of its esteemed professors and meticulously thought-out curriculum, that I submit my application for the Bachelor of ime programa. From a young age I have been fascinated by my surroundings. While other children played with their dolls I constructed furniture and sewed clothes for mine. Creating different forms and unique constructions has always been a passion of mine. There was never a time in my life when I was not adamantly set on pursuing architecture as my one true calling in life. Architecture (na primer) serves as the perfect balance and collaboration between my love of arts and natural sciences, namely mathematics and physics. I believe it is precisely in architecture that I may live up to my true potential and make a difference in the world.

I appreciate the versatility of the programme as it takes into account the ever-changing nature of the field and allows for creativity in creating new and more efficient solutions. Theoretical study is nothing without its practical side which is an aspect of the programme which most impressed me. I believe this is the best place for me to learn how to satisfy the demands of customers while simultaneously constructing sustainable buildings whose designs will contribute to the aesthetic of the urban landscape. The field of architecture has always been appealing to me as it is multidisciplinary. I believe that one must be able to grasp the larger picture and take into account many different fields in order to create a successful building. In my opinion, success is measured by its innovativeness and practicality. One must understand peoples' needs and changing environment in order to be able to adapt to the living space in the most efficient manner. Taking all of this into consideration, I am certain that I am destined for a career in architecture and I will put forth all of the necessary work to achieve my goal.

I chose London because of its eclectic architectural heritage. From St Paul's Cathedral to the Tower of London it has proved throughout history to be the cradle of inspiration and art. Additionally, what else could a student of architecture need than a London Festival of Architecture! So, as a creative hub London was a natural choice for me. Your University stood out because it offers students good employment, it has an amazing location and the architecture syllabus is amazing. (ako na primer idete u UK)

Throughout my entire education I have taken all of the necessary steps in expanding my knowledge and preparing for undergraduate studies in architecture. I persistently worked on enhancing my artistic skills by participating in a sewing course, as well as a photography course and my secondary school's art club. I also spent some time shadowing an architect, in order to get firsthand knowledge and experience. I accompanied her to client meetings and assisted in projects. It was then that she noticed my spatial intelligence and encouraged me to apply for this programme. I can spend countless hours engaged in artistic activities such as drawing and creating miniature models, as well as solving mathematical problems. Another aspect of my personality which gives me an advantage is my perfectionist nature and keen eye for detail. I strive towards improvement in my chosen field as well as personal growth, which I believe may be achieved through an international education. Meeting people from different cultures and backgrounds and sharing ideas with them would provide me with inspiration in my future work.

The opportunity to study at such a renowned University would set me miles ahead in achieving my goals. Upon completing my studies I plan on enrolling in The Berlage Post-master in Architecture and Urban Design, and subsequently obtaining employment in Zaha Hadid Architects with the aim of one day bringing all of the experience I have gained to my home country. It would be an honor to become a student of a University which holds such a high reputation and success rate of its alumni. (karijerni ciljevi)

For all of the aforementioned reasons I am submitting my application for a coveted spot in your Bachelor's degree programme. Thank you for your time and consideration. I am looking forward to your response. (ovo uvek treba da bude kraj u ovoj ili slicnoj formi)

Sincerely,
